- Idea discussion tool: ChatGPT web for conversational exploration of approaches and report ideas
- Coding tool: Codex agents for repository-based coding, editing, and report artifact generation
- Workflow structure: an orchestrator coordinated specialised agents, each given one bounded task in an isolated git worktree before the results were reviewed and merged back into the branch
- Planning discipline: each major phase began in plan mode to refine scope and identify key decisions before implementation
- Minimum skills declared: `using-superpowers`, `brainstorming`, `writing-plans`
- Other AI purposes: architecture exploration, alternative evaluation, debugging support, editing support, and documentation refinement
- Human oversight statement: all AI output was reviewed against the coursework brief and the repository before being accepted into the final deliverables

C. Exported Conversation Logs

Attach or paste exported conversation logs here before submission. If your submission platform handles appendices better as separate files, keep this page as an index and attach the exported logs as a companion PDF.
